

Homework Autumn 1st Half Term

After last year we have chosen to keep with the format used for homework as the feedback was overwhelmingly positive. The tasks set are optional but it would be good to try at least one PSHE and Topic homework whilst reading remains the single most important thing you can do at home to support your child in school. We hope you enjoy trying some of the tasks.

Reading. Remember reading is probably the most important homework you can do. Try and read every night even if it is just for 10 minutes. Sometimes it is also nice to have stories read to you (these count in your termly total). Don't worry if you can not read every night, you will be given the chance to read at break time for five minutes. My Target is: Termly Total. This half term I have read these books:
Personal Moral Spiritual Going for Goals 	Everybody likes to have their best qualities recognized and it is also really nice to give. Create a special certificate or if you are really adventurous a cup or shield to give to someone in school for something that they are amazing at e.g. being a great sportsperson or being kind and helpful.	People inspire us to achieve our goals. Who inspires you and why? Create a cardboard cutout of your hero/heroine and fill it with words and phrases that describe what makes their character so great.	Trying new things opens up new possibilities and with them come new challenges and goals. Get a picture or video of you trying something new and tell your class a little about your experience.	Goal or Dream? What is the difference? In school we think of goals as something we can achieve in a short time but you should not stop dreaming. Make a goal that is achievable and record how you are working hard to achieve this.

Our Topic 	Write a letter to Merlin and tell him all about what we have been doing in our topic. You could try and ask him some questions. Bring a copy of your letter to share it with your friends before you send it.	Make a model or sculpture of Merlin, King Arthur or their dragon. You might even want to make Tintagel castle or Merlin's cave.	Write a fact file about Merlin or a dragon. Research information to put in your fact file. Try and include a picture with a caption and a fun fact.	Can you make your own potion? Give it a name and try and write a recipe list and maybe a spell to go with it. Bring It in for our potion station.

Mathletics 	The school has decided to continue to subscribe to mathletics this year as it offers great flexibility for home support as well as still having the games that children love. Class teachers have been given passwords for your children which they will give out on the first few weeks back. Our aim is that everyone has a silver certificate by Christmas. Try and get three bronze certificates this half term. That's 1000 points in a week! Points awarded on Mathletics this term:
